DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed May 3, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The present invention is drawn to a method of encoding a signal frame using KLT transform with a view to overcoming a drawback of the prior art, i.e., the necessity of transmitting the KLT basis vectors as well as the KLT coefficients, which reduces signal compression and requires increased bit rates. See Background of the Invention at page 3, lines 4-10. The present invention achieves this goal by estimating the basis vectors not only at the transmitter but also at the receiver. See Summary of the Invention at page 3, lines 21-29 and the Remarks of May 3, 2005, page 13. Thus, estimating the KLT basis vectors at the receiver is an essential part of the disclosed invention. It is the examiner's understanding that this estimation of the KLT vectors at the receiver allows to avoid the necessity of transmitting the KLT basis vectors. Without this critical feature expressly cited in the claims, the claimed invention is reduced to nothing but a destroyed prior art embodiment.

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claims 1-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the elements. See MPEP

Art Unit: 2638

§ 2172.01. The omitted elements are: the disclosed specific method of encoding and transmitting the KLT coefficients such that the KLT basis vectors do not have to be transmitted.

Claims 1 and 15 are drawn to a method and apparatus, respectively, for a coding a signal frame using a Karhunen-loeve transform, comprising estimating KLT basis vectors, calculating KLT coefficients and transmitting at least one of the KLT coefficients but not transmitting the KLT basis vectors. However, the specification clearly describes that both KLT coefficients and basis vectors must be transmitted in order to reconstruct the original signal at the receiver according to the prior art. See page 3, lines 4-10. Therefore, the present invention requires an improved way of KLT coefficients encoding method that would permit non-transmission of the KLT basis vectors unlike the prior art. Without defining the inventive encoding method of KLT coefficients, the claims are incomplete for omitting essential steps. See MPEP § 2172.01.

Claims 2-14 and 16-27 are rejected for the same reason as dependent on rejected base claims.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 2638
